LINCOLN CHRONICLE

Foreword

To the end that we may from time to time refresh our memories with a pictorial record of those events and faces around which rich associations at Lincoln High School cluster, we, the Staff, have attempted to assemble and publish this Year Book. If the Chronicle has missed an activity or omitted a face it is because the Staff is not infallible, but we have done our best to portray in pictures and headline highlights the activities of the school year 1948-49 and the persons who have contributed to such a successful year. If this annual merits your approval, the Class of 1949 will feel generously repaid for the hours spent in its making.

A BRIEF WORD

The members of the Lincoln Chronicle Staff, all of whom are members of the School Publications Class this year, have had the responsibility of publishing the school newspaper, The Lincoln Chronicle, this year. All members of the Staff were inexperienced, since they had never been enrolled in the School Publications Class before. We have been able, however, to publish a paper once each month. In addition to this work, the Staff members and Advisers have written an average of five articles a week for our local newspaper and the Negro weekly papers. We feel that our work has carried out the aims of school publications.

It has been a pleasure to follow the instructions of our teacher, Mrs. Mary Ella Tymony, and the advice of our Principal, Mr. H.L. Drew. We have learned from them and in the process of carrying out our assignments how much can be accomplished through cooperative work. We are deeply grateful to both of them.

We wish also to gratefully acknowledge the cooperation given the Staff by the merchants and business firms who responded so favorably to our solicitations for their ads which helped to make this Year Book possible. We are graetful to our fellow students and the teachers, patrons, and all who contributed in any way to our success.

--------- The Staff.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The Senior Class of 1949 which has a membership of eleven, entered Lincoln High School as freshmen with an enrollment of fifteen. In the fall of 1945 these were our classmates: Donald Arthur, Thomas Dameron, Paul Davies, Edgar Fugate,Jr., Thomas Harvey, Eugene Lewis, Oletha Jackson, Mary Ella Lee, Jacqueline Paige, Joann Reynolds, Margaret J. Robinson, Ada Ruth Taylor, Dorothy Mae Timmons, Alverta Turner, and Mary Margaret West.

It was our sophomore year when our number decreased. We had lost Eugene Lewis, Thomas Harvey, Edgar Fugate, Jr., and Paul Davies. The members of the class who enrolled in the sophomore year were Donald Arthur, Thomas Dameron, Betty Griffin, Oletha Jackson, Mary Ella Lee, Mildred Linn, Joann Reynolds, Margaret J. Robinson, Ada Ruth Taylor, Dorothy Timmons, Alverta Turner, Joseph C. Terry, and Mary Margaret West.

Our important activities began in the sophomore year, when Dorothy Mae Timmons represented the class in the "Miss Lincoln" contest and was crowned as the 1947 "QUEEN" The sophomore class presented a play, "Among us Girls", at Dalton, Huntsville, and Salisbury, Mo., for the benefit of our contestant.

One of our classmates, Mary Margaret West, moved to St. Joseph, Mo., but we had some new non-resident pupils to increase our number in the Junior year, namely: Minnie Blake, Wilma Garth, and David Louis Robinson from Huntsville. Frances Alderson of Moberly also enrolled. During this Junior year our class sponsored a Junior-Senior Prom in the spring of 1948. Also during our junior year, Margaret Jean Robinson represented our class in the "Miss Lincoln" contest and came out with second place. Ada Ruth Taylor, a classmate, got married during this year.

The class enrolled as Seniors in September 1948. The members of the class were Donald Arthur, Minnie Blake, Thomas Dameron, Wilma Garth, Oletha Jackson, Mildred Linn, Joann Reynolds, David Louis Robindon, Margaret J. Robinson, Dorothy Mae Timmons, and Alverta Turner.

The Seniors always belonged to the Chorus. These members were on the basketball teams: Minnie Blake, Wilma Garth, Dorothy Timmons, Donald Arthur, Thomas Dameron, and David Louis Robinson. Thomas Dameron and Donald Arthur have been outstanding players on the basketball team. Margaret J. Robinson and Dorothy Mae Timmons have been outstanding as vocal soloists.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

(As seen by the Senior Class Prophet)

It is a well known saying, often proven true, that "Coming events cast their shadows before". Therefore, it is not so hard as many people suppose for one who takes the trouble to study the comings and goings of his fellow creatures, to be something of a prophet and to form some idea, more or less correct, of what their future course of action will be.

Having for somtime been possessed of a strong ambition for the brilliant career of a detective, I have just for the sake of practice, or as a means of preparation, kept a sharp eye on all of you when you were perhaps unaware that you were being observed or studied at all. So I feel that I can judge with some degree of accuracy the lives into which your personal characteristics and inclinations will lead you in the years that are to be.

1. Ah! thirty, forty years hence I see a rich man, a banker, riding in his aeroplane, counting out his money, wearing his diamonds. Who is it? --- David Louis Robinson.
2. Ah, the dainty lady of society, envied and flattered by all, the queen of every gathering, the belle of every ball- Margaret Jean Robinson.
3. Now we see a woman of strong mind, strong will, a lecturer on a strong subject- an old maid demonstrating her independence of man. Her name- Minnie Blake.
4. A strong breeze and a whiff of far, far prairies. A girl of the plains riding barebacked over the broad spaces. Wilma Garth.
5. A school of learning and a noble professor before his class. They call him Professor Donald Arthur.
6. Ah! I see a lady crying. Surely it is some lonely widow mourning her husband. No, not so, I see nothing like that! 'Tis only a fair bride weeping the loss of her pet poodle. Who is the bride? Her name was once Joann Reynolds.
7. I hear the news boy running down the street, Extra!! Extra! all about the great American hero, General Thomas Dameron.
8. Now I see a large billboard and what does it say? A second Marian Anderson, greatest opera singer of the day. Dorothy Mae Timmons.
9. A large building. Why, it is a convent. A brave lady disappointed in some love affair has become a nun. Her name is lost now for she is called "Sister Marie", but I see her face and she was once Mildred Linn.
10. Here I see two happy wives making sunshine and music within their walls. I see them exchanging confidences over the fence- I see how, even in their marriage, they could never be divided, the girls who were so inseparable- Alverta Turner and Oletha Jackson.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

Upon behalf of my client, the Class of 1949, of Lincoln High School of the city of Moberly, state of Missouri, I have called you together upon this solemn and serious occasion to listen to her last will and testament, and to receive from her dying hand the few gifts she has to bestow in her last moments.

Listen, then, one and all, while I read the document, as duly drawn up and sworn to:

We, the class of 1949, in eleven individual and distinct parts, being about to pass out of this sphere of education, in full possession of a crammed mind, well trained memory, and almost superhuman understanding, do make and publish this, our last will and testament.

Item:

We give and bequeath to the dear faculty, who have been our instructors in all the wisdom of the ages, a sweet and unbroken succession of restful nights and peaceful dreams. No longer need they lie awake through the long watches of the night to worry over the uncertainty of whether this one or that one is doing her night work. It has been a hard strain on them, for Seniors are said to be at all times and under all conditions difficult to manage. But they have all done their duty, and verily, now shall they have their well earned reward.

Item:

The following may seem but trifling bequests, but we hope they may be accepted, not as worthless things, but as valuable assets to those who may receive them and a continual reminder of the generosity of heart displayed in our free and full bestowal:

1st- To our classroom teacher, Miss Morris, the admiration and ever enduring friendship of the class of 1949.

2nd- To the class of 1950 we leave our seats in classroom and assembly. We also leave aby stubs of pencils and scraps of paper we may leave behind in our excitement and haste of gathering up our cherished treasures for the last time.

3rd- To Barbara A., Jo Ann Reynolds' gift of gab.

4th- To Kenneth Vaughn, Alverta Turner wills her laughing.

5th- Cletha Jackson leaves Fredrica Thorpe her giddy spirit whenever the occasion warrants it.

6th- To Zella Ruth Vaughn, Margaret J. Robinson's bluff.

7th- To Ruby Hughes, Minne Blake bequeaths her basketball suit, hoping that she will have much success.

8th- Wilma Garth wills her popularity to the new student, Velma Fugate.

9th- To Marjorie Johnson, Mildred Linn leaves her seat on the Macon Bus.

10th- To Leroy Reynolds, Donald Arthur's boisterousness.

11th- David Robinson wills his job as Sports Editor to Mason Smith, a friend as short as he.

12th- To James Grant, Thomas Dameron wills his basketball ability as an all-star player.

13th- Dorothy Timmons wills her perfect attendance to the student who will accept it and continue the record.

Besides these enforced gifts, we leave, not of necessity, but of our own free will, our blessing, tender memories of our pleasant association together, and a pledge of friendship henceforth and forever.

Our School Song

"LINCOLN, DEAR LINCOLN"

(Tune—"Keep the Home Fires Burning")

Chorus:

Lincoln, Lincoln, Lincoln,
Lincoln how we love thee—
We, thy sons and daughters true,
Love thee more and more each day.
We can ne'er forget thee,
No matter where we roam;
We will always think of Lincoln
As home, sweet home.

Stanza 1.

We are Lincoln sons and daughters
Who have started on our way.
We know not where life may lead us,
But this much we can truly say,
Lincoln helped us get a foundation
Upon which we may build our life;
If we're true to Lincoln's teachings
We will all withstand the strife.
Chorus

Stanza 2.

As products of Dear Old Lincoln
Let us all be loyal and true;
And never bring her name reproach
In anything that we may do.
Let's be real sons and daughters
Worthy of the Gold and Blue,
And as true and tried old Lincolnites,
Honor her in all we do.
Chorus

'Living In 1948' Is Subject of Address Given by C. C. Damel at Lincoln, Moberly

Commencement Address

"Living in 1948" was the subject of the commencement address given by C. C. Damel, assistant professor of education and secretary of public relations at Lincoln University, Jefferson City.

"If I were a graduate in 1948," said Mr. Damel, "There are some things that I would decide for myself. I would try to develop that kind of a personality which would allow me to get along with other people. We want to be accepted by society and to do so we must develop those characteristics which produce a magnetic personality." He referred the graduates to the Bible for examples which would serve as guidance. "We must make ourselves the kind of people we want other people to be.

"Do not be an addict to the sin of neutrality. Our cities are being run by bad politicians; our schools, communities and our churches often suffer because people sit idly by and do nothing about it. Too often persons say, 'It's not my fight', but there is no such thing as a private fight in such matters. When the bell tolls, it tolls for those who do not fight, as well as for those who fight. Schools are in need of someone to speak for their needs; teachers are underpaid because of the habit many have of being neutral. Those who are neutral suffer along with the others.

Not Too Young to Begin

"Regular attendance at church will give you strength for making decisions for yourselves. You may think that only adults can perform the great tasks in life's work. This is not true. You are none too young to begin to play a part in life's work. Napoleon, Edison, Alexander the Great and even Jesus Christ began life's work at an early age. Don't be guilty of believing a thing because it is customary to have such a belief. Make a decision for yourself. Remember Pope's words, 'if I am right.'

"I hope that out of all of your experiences you will get courage to do something about a thing that is wrong. Be able to determine which is which."

Annual Field Day Results at Lincoln School

Field day and the annual school picnic for Lincoln High School, held Thursday, was attended by many visiting friends of the pupils and teachers. A hot lunch was served at noon and ice cream cones and soda pop later in the afternoon. Both the lunch and refreshments were free. Prizes awarded winners in field day activities, presented by Principal H. L. Drew, were candy bars.

Rev. W. W. Goff Delivers Impressive Sermon at Baccalaureate Services of Moberly Lincoln School

Compares Life To Potter and His Wheel

Speaker Urges Lincoln Graduates to Avoid 'Rubbish Heap'

"The Potter's Wheel," was the subject of the Rev. W. W. Goff, pastor of Gillum M. E. church, for the baccalaureate sermon he delivered Sunday afternoon to the Lincoln High School and elementary school graduation classes in the school auditorium.

The text of his sermon was taken from Jeremiah 18:3 and Second Timothy 2:21.

"God is the potter; we are the clay, and the church, the home, the school and the environment are the wheel," said the Rev. Mr. Goff in opening. A potter, he added, has more than clay and a wheel—"he has a rubbish heap, and so has the world."

Sermon Highlights

Highlights in the sermon included these remarks: "Whenever we resist God's law, we have a life of rubbish. . . Sometimes a life it not completely ruined by resisting God's law, but it is like a marred vessel; it is of less value. . . Your sins will find you out. . . Do not live alife that you will regret in the future."

Final Assembly Held at Lincoln

The final assembly of the school year was held by pupils and teachers of Lincoln School Friday morning in the school auditorium.

School Supervisor Guest Speaker at Lincoln Assembly

Wilbur Finley, supervisor of elementary instruction in the Moberly public schools, as guest speaker at the regular monthly assembly held Wednesday morning at Lincoln School discussed "Some of the Things that Teachers and Students Will Need for Success in Life." He pointed out these things as being essential:

A mastery of the fundamentals of the tools of learning; a knowledge of the physical and mental make-up of the body; development of character; using leisure time wisely; and having a belief in one God.

Mr. Finley mentioned the need of the language arts, arithmetic and the fine arts, but he said more emphasis needs to be put on mastering the social studies. "That is where we fall down most," he said, "and we need to put a new emphasis on it. The world is in a great turmoil and we need a knowledge of history, geography, and citizenship."

Concluding his address he asked that all learn to use leisure time wisely and have an avocation. He added "You must have a belief in one God. Do not be ashamed to attend Sunday School and church," and he concluded, "If you do all of these things your life should be a success."

The faculty and student body made a contribution to the Community Chest Fund last week.

Lincoln Principal Asks Cooperation For Better School

"If you work hard, study diligently and take advantage of every opportunity offered, you will profit greatly and you will have no regrets when the year is ended," Principal H. L. Drew told the pupils, teachers and patrons who attended the assembly Tuesday formally opening the Lincoln school term.

Principal Drew advised the students to "take an active part in all school activities and get all the helpful experiences possible during the coming year. You will not only make your year's work more enjoyable, but will make it more profitable, because we learn to do by doing. If you guard your conduct carefully and practice being a good school citizen, you will win the admiration of your fellow students and the teachers and at the same time you will be developing the habit of good citizenship which will make you respected and admired even after you leave school."

He added, "let us hope that every pupil will be imbued with the desire to get somewhere, to make the most possible out of school and to make every day count for something worthwhile."

To the teachers who were seated on the stage, Mr. Drew said, "your opportunity for service was never greater than now." He pointed out that parents often made great sacrifices to keep their children in school. "They will not mind the sacrifice," he said, "if they can be assured that you are truly on the job teaching, guiding and directing their children toward a better, broader, cleaner and more useful life. What a responsibility and what a challenge! As true teachers we must accept that challenge and give our best, not some of the time, but every day of the year."

To the parents, Mr. Drew said, "the teachers would feel their burdens greatly lightened if we could be assured that the parents art truly interested in their children. Generally speaking, we have not had that assurance in the past. We know that parents that are truly interested in their children are interested in everything that affects the child. They are concerned about the kind of school the child attends, how well it is equipped for its work; how well the job of teaching is being done; what the school has to offer in the way of courses for the full development of the child; how regularly and promptly the child attends school. They are concerned about his religious life, his social life, his environment and those things that make or mar a good life." He added a plea to the parents to become truly interested in their child's welfare and urged close cooperation between the home and the school.

Lincoln School Takes Forward Strides Under Principal Drew

Moberly's Lincoln High School has made much progress during the past three years under the leadership of Principal H. L. Drew. During this time courses in industrial arts, vocational home economics, speech and dramatics have been added.

The school now publishes a regular monthly school newspaper and a year book. The P. T. A. has been revived and it has been instrumental in adding considerable playground equipment to the school and is fostering health clinics and other services. An Alumni Association was founded by Principal Drew. This association has been offerings two scholarships to Lincoln seniors each year and performs many other valuable services.

"Since most of the pupils served by Lincoln School seldom have the advantage of attending college, I believe the work at Lincoln should be broadened and enlarged to meet their needs and interests," says Principal Drew.

Would Expand Courses

"The work offered in home economics and industrial arts should be explanded. There should be added courses in commercial subjects, art and a much improved music department, including instrumental music with a band and orchestra. More playground space is needed,"

Like many other Moberly educators, Mr. Drew believes the community needs provision for a community center and year-round recreational facilities for both youth and adults. "Provision should also be made for the many boys and girls in their teens who are out of school and who need guidance, help and encouragement," believes Principal Drew.

Lincoln Speaker Stresses Value Of an Education

Dr. J. L. Thompson, district superintendent of the Central-West Methodist Conference ,spoke on "The Value of the Public School," at a special assembly held Tuesday afternoon in the Lincoln School auditorium.

After briefly summarizing the history of education in America, he made it clear to the students that they are enjoying greater educational opportunities than the girls and boys of a generation or two ago. "You should have a deeper appreciation for your school and its opportunities," he said. He pointed out that the school building itself should be an inspiration; that the provision for play and recreation was of great benefit; and that better trained teachers in the schools of today are invaluable assets.

Dr. Thompson advised the students to make decisions as to their vocations as early as possible. "Get more education," he said. "The more education you have, the better position and the better the pay you get; but get education, because you can then make a better contribution to the world."

The speaker referred to the life of George Washington Carver as an example that the lack of money need not keep one from continuing his education. "Let his life be an inspiration," he said—"If you don't go on, it's your own fault—You can go on, but you must be industrious, and you must work."

Other platform guests with Principal H. L. Drew were the Rev. W. W. Goff, pastor of Gillum Memorial Methodist Church, who introduced the speaker; the Rev. I. W. Whitley, pastor of Pilgrim Rest Baptist Church; the Rev. J. L. Johnson, pastor of the Church of God in Christ; and the Rev. T. R. Sayles, pastor of Second Baptist Church.

Musical numbers on the assembly program were "Lift Every Voice and Sing" by the audience, and one selection from girls' chorus and from the boys' glee club under the direction of Mrs. Paralee V. Williams. Invocation was by the Rev. Mr. Whitley, and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Johnson.

16th Annual Session

The meeting here was the 16th annual session of the Missouri Branch of the National Congress. It's theme was "Character Building, a Responsibility of the Home and School", which was discussed by Mrs. Mayberry, and Mrs. W. W. M. Henry of Dover, Del., national president. The session was voted by delegates as being the best in the history of the Congress.

Unique Program Features

A chorus of more than 100 voices, composed of patrons of the Lincoln high school, Moberly, under the direction of Principal H. L. Drew, was one of the outstanding program features.

'The Ghost In The Glass' Is Given at Lincoln High in Moberly to Appreciative Audience

A bus load of patrons and student from Macon and from Huntsville attended the three-act mystery comedy, considered the most difficult and the longest production any Lincoln High School speech class has ever presented.

The cast of characters included: Jack Eddy, a nervous young newlywed, Donald Arthur; Letha Eddy, his bride, Nora Louise Smith; Mrs. Diana Deed, who was on a strange mission, Wilma Garth; Rud Skipper, the town everything, David Louis Robinson; Bondine, Letha's maid, Dorothy Mae Timmons; the Hermit, who lived near in a cave, Thomas Dameron; Herbert Harlow, a friend of Letha's, Harry Houston, Jr.; Ruth Madison, a most impressive young girl, Louise Robinson; the mystery girl who appears suddenly, Helen Marie Lee; Jerome Larkin, Letha's uncle and guardian, Kenneth Lamar Vaughn; Mrs. Marian Gaylord, Jack's determined aunt, Mabel Toalson; Jessica Hollingsworth, a society debutante, Betty Dameron; Mrs. Minnie Sprat, who occupies an important position, Minnie Blake; and the voice, June Harris.

The play was directed by Mrs. H. D Tymony, teacher of the speech class.
